

My Unsung Hero

Heroes are hard to come by,
A Label they don't display,
It's how they conduct themselves,
each and every day.

My hero isn't someone who wears a cape
Or flies around saving the world,
My hero is an unsung hero,
It could be said she's a pearl.

So who would I see as able,
Someone who stands out from the crowd,
This person doesn't need a label
This person just smiles and isn't loud.

I've known her for a lifetime,
We met when we were young,
A contract we did sign,
A life together for better or worse had begun.

Who knew sickness would raise it's ugly head,
The villain cancer is a curse,
My unsung hero had cared for me,
for better and now for worse.

I didn't ask, she jumped right in,
Nothing was a chore,
She kept her smile, she kept her grace,
She kept her style, this girl I just adore.

At times I could tell she was depressed,
But nothing squashed her courage,
Even though I tried to stress,
This wouldn't define our marriage.

Two years later, we're almost through,
And I think now we're even stronger,
My unsung hero is by my side,
We've negotiated the thunder.

What lies ahead is unknown,
But one thing is for sure,
I'll never forget her courage, her dedication,
Her sacrifice it's origins are pure.
She is my unsung hero.
